

RETAIL SALES PERFORMANCE REVIEW

Analyzing 2003-2005 Revenue Drivers and Geographic Contributions

Agenda: Key Areas of Focus

Executive Summary: Top-level performance metrics and findings.

Insight 1: Seasonality Deep Dive (Q4 Revenue Drivers).

Insight 2: Product Line Performance (High-Value Items).

Insight 3: Geographic Contribution (Core Market Dominance).

Insight 4: Deal Size distribution (Quantity ordered).

Conclusion & Next Steps: Actionable recommendations for Q1 strategy.

Executive Summary: Key Findings & Performance

Key Findings:

The business exhibits strong Q4 seasonality, with November being the peak sales month, driving $3.87M in Q4 revenue.

High-value Classic Cars and Trucks/Buses lead in average order value, consistently generating over $3,700 per transaction.

EMEA and North America (NA) are the core markets, accounting for over 83% of total revenue. Strategic focus should remain on these territories.

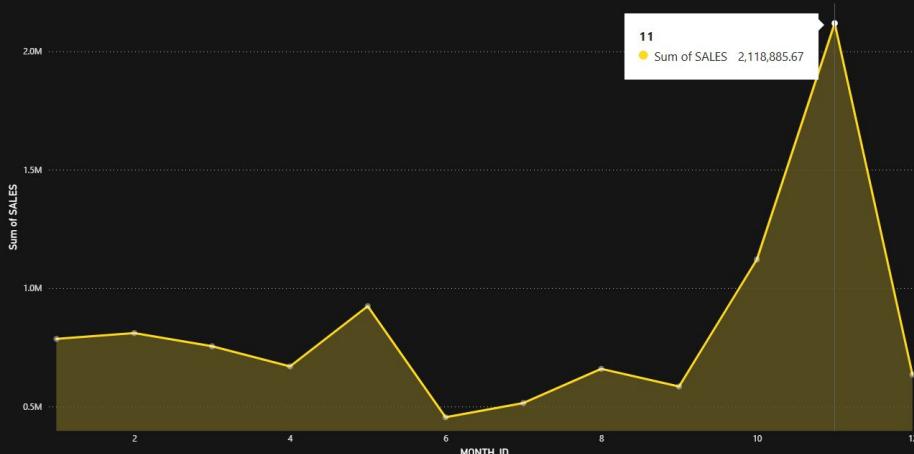

Top 10 customer revenue is driven by high-frequency, medium/small deals (94.8% of transactions), suggesting a strong loyalty and repeat-purchase model.

1. Deep Dive: Q4 Extreme Seasonality

Key Insights :

Extreme Seasonality in Q4

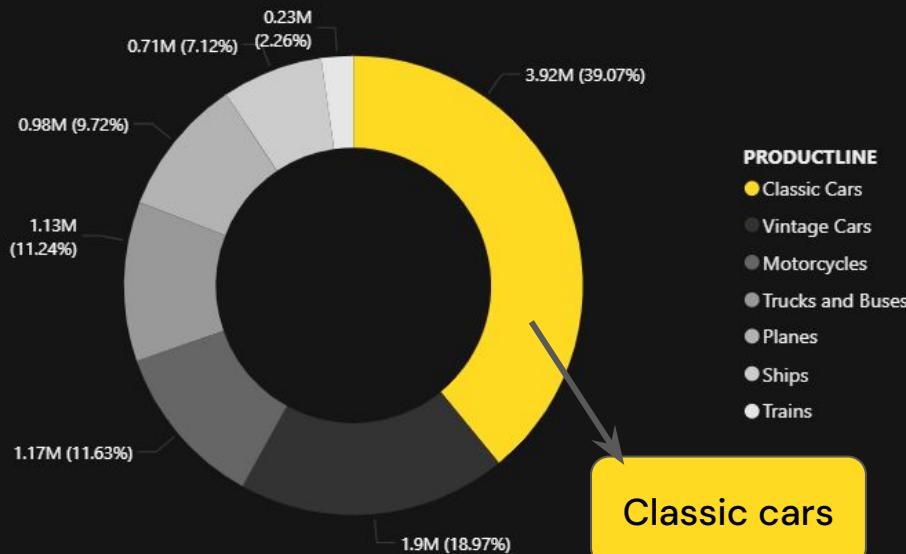

- Q4 Impact: Drives >1/3 of total annual revenue.
- Top Month: November accounts for ~14% of sales alone.
- Peak vs. Trough: November sales are >4X higher than September.

2. Insight: Product Line Performance

Key Insights :

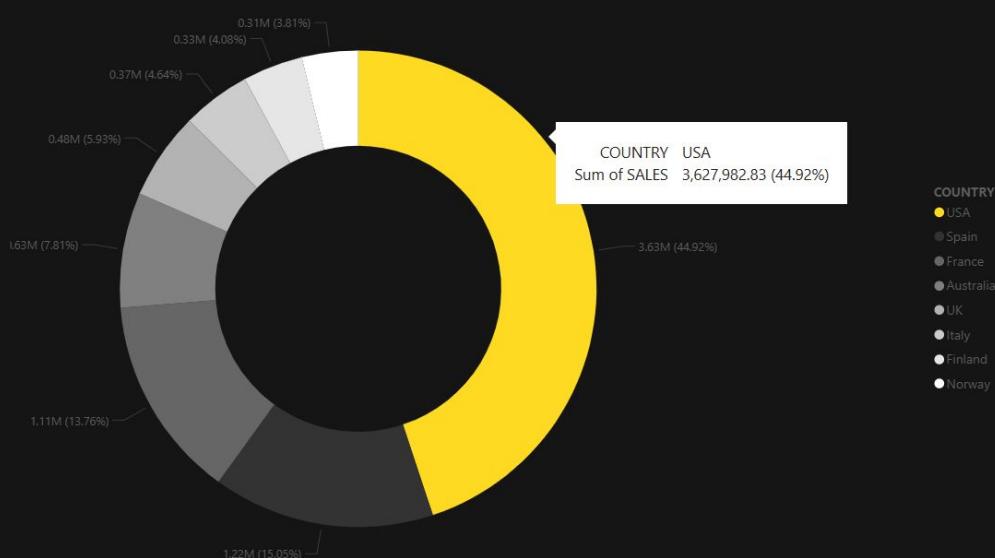

Classic Cars is the top-selling product line, generating 3.92M in sales (39.07%).

3. Insight: Geographic Revenue Breakdown

Key Insights :

The USA is the top-performing country, generating 3.63M in sales (44.92%).

Conclusion & Next Steps

The business exhibits robust year-over-year growth and maintains strong market dominance in EMEA and North America, driven by high-value product lines.

Strategic focus will now prioritize capitalizing on Q4 momentum and strengthening customer retention.

Key Insights :

Q3 Performance Analysis: Conduct a deep dive into order volume and customer behavior to diagnose the seasonal revenue dip.

Product Margin Review: Validate profitability metrics for high-performing lines (Classic Cars, Trucks & Buses).

Digital Channel Audit: Evaluate marketing ROI across online channels in the EMEA and North American markets.